'Dream Job' Helps Crippled Tots

Dorothy Buck is so happy today in her "dream job" as a physical therapist that she's given no serious thought to marriage.

But attractive Miss Buck is more than a physical therapist, fascinating as that field is to a young woman who loves children and has a particularly warm spot in her heart for those disabled by birth defects. She joined New York University Medical Center in New York City where she is administrative assistant in the Children's Division. The medical college of the University is aided by the New March of Dimes.

Here is probably the only "dream job" of its kind in the nation, she says. "With these tots, new problems arise every hour dealing with walking and crawling and devising new ways of doing both. And that means a challenge every hour. There's nothing routine about my job," the brunette and hazel-eyed therapist says. "And for that I'm grateful."

She tells how she made a career in physical therapy and of her interest in The National Foundation's professional education program which, in this one field alone, offers annually 103 March of Dimes scholarships of $500 each to applicants in all 50 states and Puerto Rico.

She studied first at McGill University, Montreal, Next, this enterprising young woman enlisted in the women's division of the Royal Canadian Air Force and taught physical education and rehabilitation at the Boundary Bay Base near Vancouver. She then obtained a bachelor of science degree in physical therapy at New York University, worked at Bellevue Hospital in New York City with patients stricken with a wide variety of disabilities and rigorous physical therapy later by attending night classes.

she teleported a two-year course into one year in guidance and personnel administration.

"What is so satisfying about the profession of physical therapy," she explains, "is that we treat the patient as a whole. We don't restrict ourselves to the immediate disability at hand. And in the case of handicapped children, we also find ourselves 'treating' and 'teaching' their parents—telling them that when the great day dawns that Susan or Tommy can leave us, rigorous physical therapy must continue and that father and mother must serve as home therapists.

"For any young woman with the normal desire to help others in difficulty, particularly children, there is no more desirable career than one in physical therapy," she says. "It's certainly far better than pulverizing a typewriter or taking someone's fractured disposition. Finally, even if Dorothy Buck has no immediate thoughts about marriage for herself, she argues that there's no reason why a physical therapist can't have a career and a family too."

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

By T. C. Self and Billy Taylor

Governor John Patterson has proclaimed the week of October 10 as Soil Conservation District Week. All Soil Conservation Districts in Alabama will be participating in the celebration of this week.

Soil conservation districts are administered by a governing board of local landowners. The members of this board are called Soil Conservation District supervisors.

The primary functions of a soil conservation district are: (1) to encourage landowners in the district to conserve their soil; (2) to furnish technical help to farmers; (3) to help in the planning and construction of soil conservation projects; (4) to encourage the use of soil conservation practices.

The week of October 10 through 15 is National Fire Prevention Week.

Personnel of the Soil Conservation Service as well as other agencies and organizations are aware of the great loss of property and personal injuries caused by fires each year. Farm fires last year cost the nation $1.4 billion in damage. This was $18 million more than in 1958.

Each year 11,000 people in the United States die needlessly in fires and more than twice that number are severely burned or disfigured for life.

Most frequent cause of fires in farm homes are: defective heating equipment; faulty chimney and furnace; overloaded and defective wiring system; and matches and smoking materials.

Remove grass, weeds and dry vegetation from around buildings and along fence rows. Burn trash regularly in small quantities, in a safe place and at a safe distance from buildings.

Prepare for fire fighting by having an organized plan in case of fire. Train for family safety so that each person will know what to do.

Famous News Commentator Gives Secret of Good Insurance Protection

"Most sensible people insure their cars and homes through independent insurance agents," says H. V. Kaltenborn, dean of radio newscasters.

"When you've lived as long as I have," octogenarian Mr. Kaltenborn continues, "you get to know how important the service of, say, a good lawyer or a good insurance agent can be. I wouldn't know how to begin to handle my own insurance."

He points out the difficulty of knowing the best company for home or car insurance. "And I doubt if one company is best for all," he says. "Or suppose I have a disagreement with an insurance company? I don't have the time, energy or ability to handle my own insurance problems," concludes Mr. Kaltenborn.

"That's why, like most people, I have an independent agent."

You, too, can buy insurance with confidence from the man who shows this Big "I" Seal. To display it, we have had to meet professional standards designed to protect you.

Biggest Parade For Fall Festival Is Assured Already

A bigger parade than ever before, with more floats and more colorful floats, was in the offing this week for the Fourth Annual Fall Festival, Nov. 5, as committees in charge continued to work during the past week planning to make this year's Festival bigger than any before.

Events already assured by committees include:
(1) The biggest parade yet;
(2) A transline act by the famous Navy team from Pensacola, Fla.;
(3) An old-time fiddlers contest;
(4) A demonstration parachute jump at the Municipal Airport by the nationally famous Fort Rucker Skydiving team.

Names continued to be received at the office of The Elba Clipper from local residents who have been asked to furnish names of persons living outside the Elba area to be included in the parade. The Fall Festival Committee send a personal invitation to the event, and a complimentary copy of The Elba Fall Festival edition.

Wider Readership For Ads Is Desired By Contest Workers

Entries in The Elba Clipper's Big Prize Subscription Contest increased to eight during the past week with the entry of Mrs. Lucille Howdin, manager of Federated Stores.

Mrs. Bowdoin said she has a double purpose in soliciting subscribers for The Elba Clipper: to win a brand new Corvair or one of the big cash prizes, and also to see to it that more people are reached by Federated advertising in The Elba Clipper.

"We have found that there is no better way to let our customers know about the unmatched values at Federated than through The Elba Clipper, yet very often someone will come into the store and say, 'I wish I had known about that sale!'"

"If I can get them all to reading The Elba Clipper they will save enough on our unmatched values to pay for their subscription many times over."

GETS SCHOLARSHIP
Miss Myrna Johns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Johns, has received a University Scholarship at the University of Alabama based on superior grades. She is a Senior majoring in Home Economics.

Only Extra Vote Offer

This is the only extra vote offer of the entire contest, and may play an important part in determining the winner of that beautiful new Corvair which will be awarded to the eligible winner of this fabulous event on Saturday, Nov. 26, just five weeks from now.

In fact, any one of the various contestants already in the race, or an ENTIRELY NEW ENTRANT could, by putting forth extra effort during "Booster Week," make themselves highly important factors and probable winners of the biggest, best, and most desirable prizes.

The geographical boundaries from which subscriptions will be taken for the contest were clarified last week to include Crenshaw county, previously excluded through error, and also Dale county because of the location of Fort Rucker in Dale. As the contest developed, it was found that the location of Fort Rucker created a "border line" because so many people who work at Fort Rucker live in the Elba trade area, so, in fairness to all, Dale county was also included.

Shirley Davis Is New FHA Resident

The Elba Chapter held its first meeting of the new year Thursday, Oct. 6. Shirley Davis, president, presided. New officers were elected as follows: President, Shirley Davis; Vice president, Betty Westhoffer; Secretary, Linda Presley; Treasurer, Sharon Parker; Reporter, Diane Mulvaney; Parliamentarian, Donna Holloway; Historian, Annette Weeks; Recreational Leader, Martha Moody.

Second grade — Mrs. Oscar Vaughan Jr., Mrs. Donald H. Crook, 3rd grade — Mrs. Adelle Lou Taylor, Mrs. Elmer Taylor, 4th grade — Mrs. Robert G. Stephens, Mrs. Ben Brock.
Fifth grade — Mrs. Bill White, Mrs. Edwin Cooper; 6th grade — Mrs. Jasper Anderson; 7th grade — Mrs. Foy Spurlin, Mrs. O. B. Rowe.

C. F. Clark Finishes Army Medical Study

Inland Docks Site Acquired at Eufula

Eufula — The State Dept. Department has acquired land just south of here on the Chattahoochee River for a modern inland docks site.

The announcement was made here last week when Gov. John Patterson toured Barbour county with several cabinet members including State Docks Director Earl M. McGowan.

The river will be more navigable during late 1962 when the Walter F. George Dam at Troy, Ga., is completed, creating a 46,000 acre reservoir stretching all the way upstream to Phenix City.

BIRTH ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Dubisair of Rt. 3, Elba, announce the birth of a daughter at G'boun hospital, Enterprise.

Dedicated To Development of Elba and Coffee County

Cum up — "Booster Week" and the last big votes in The Elba Clipper's big prize subscription contest, and a wild area in which to select subscribers.

For one week, starting the Saturday, Oct. 22, and ending the following Saturday, Oct. 29, the contest department, and this new contest will feature 12,500 votes on each and every full length subscription to The Elba Clipper.

In brief this means that for each 4-year subscription, contestants will receive 12,500 votes in addition to the regular 25,000 votes, bringing the total number of votes to 37,500 votes, the total number of points, issued on each such subscription.

Only Extra Vote Offer
This is the only extra vote offer of the entire contest, and may play an important part in determining the winner of that beautiful new Corvair which will be awarded to the eligible winner of this fabulous event on Saturday, Nov. 26, just five weeks from now.

Border Counties Count
Therefore, the circled-in subscriptions from Coffee or any bordering county will count in the contest. Never before in this area has there been so short a contest of such magnitude, where the prizes were so highly desirable and the winning requirements so liberal and inviting.

It is already the most talked of event in years and the contestants are working hard to capture the truly great prizes. Help your favorite with your 4-year subscription to The Elba Clipper. You'll save $200 and at the same time make someone very, very happy.
